

Facilitating and Leading Change 3 days

When change is implemented well, people feel engaged in the change process and work collectively towards a common objective, delivering results and realising benefits. Central to accomplishing this is being able to understand the behaviours and emotions that people experience when faced with any change, and have a positive impact on this.

This course will help enable you to be an effective facilitator and leader of change so that you achieve the full potential of the projects and programmes you lead and effectively influence the development of the continuous improvement culture and associated behaviours in your organisation on a daily basis.

This programme may be taken on its own, or as part of our Lean Six Sigma Black Belt or Business Black Belt programmes.

Who is the course for?

- Those who are Improvement Practitioners (perhaps through Continuous Improvement, Agile, Lean Six Sigma, Project Management, Deployment Lead or as a Change Agent) and wish to develop knowledge and core skills to be an effective workshop facilitator as well as effective influencer and manager of change in their organisation
- Anyone seeking to refresh and develop their previous Change Management learning and acquire additional tools on how to effectively win and maintain commitment for initiatives in a way that seamlessly integrates with business change frameworks
- People who would like to become proficient at maximising the productivity of the meetings, workshops and one-to-one interactions they lead
- Individuals who would like to practise how to overcome resistance to change from others to implement initiatives and best practices in a safe environment
- Those who want to learn how to apply the key techniques of enhancing their project communication with stakeholders in the workplace, as well as experiment with other approaches

Learning Outcomes

This course provides you with a unique combination of tools, skills and applicable knowledge in the following areas:

- Understand how change happens in organisations
- Understand the culture of your organisation and how you need to manage change within this context
- Understand your role as a change agent
- Understand your preferred style and those of others. Build your ability to use appropriate interpersonal skills to engage with, influence and help others to accept change

How can I take this course?

- As an instructor-led course through our open programme or onsite in your company
- Either of the above face to face or virtual classroom
- As a video-based online self-study programme

Course Delivery

We will use a combination of:

- Discussion and opportunity for people to input their own experiences of change
- Exercises to practise some of the areas covered
- Self-diagnostic questionnaires (we ask for these to be completed in advance)
- Short videos to illustrate concepts

Support Pack (optional)

All attendees will receive:

- 12 months access to Catalyst's online Business Improvement Zone – over 100 short videos recorded live in the classroom covering the entire Facilitating and Leading Change course content
- Printed and pdf copies of the course slides
- The Leading Change Pocket Guide
- Downloadable Leading and Facilitating Change Tools and Templates

Course Contents

We strive to be flexible and adapt the course coverage to meet the needs of those attending – for example, with how much time we spend on particular areas. As a guide the following sets out the outline of the Facilitating and Leading Change course.

Our introduction sets the scene with understanding your context for change and your learning outcomes from the course:

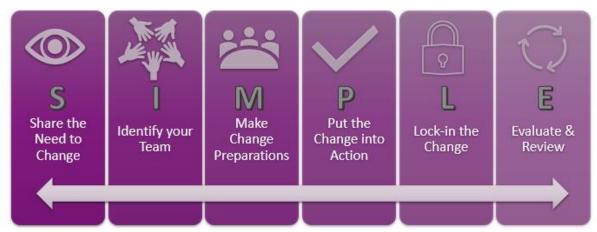

- VUCA Environment
- The case for Managing Change
- Change tools and Improvement matrix

We will discuss and practise some fundamental aspects of facilitation and leadership in the context of change, which is built upon as the course progresses:

- Profile of a Facilitative Leader
- Effective workshops
- Rapport/ Body Language

We support leaders to keep change SIMPLE. Our change management framework is used to guide and explore various elements associated with leading and managing change.

Share the need to change

- Focusing on why the change is needed
- Developing the opportunity statement
- Considering behavioural shift

Identify your team

- Understanding how people feel when going through change
- Exploring effective change leadership behaviours
- Identifying change ambassadors
- Building an effective team

Make change preparations

- Understanding culture and supporting cultural shift
- Stakeholder management
- Developing an effective communication plan

Put the change into action

- Supporting people through change
- · Planning for the 'transition period'
- Facilitation tools and techniques
- Handling conflict scenarios

Lock-in the change

- Freezing and sustaining the change
- Coaching skills and scenarios
- Situational leadership styles

Evaluate and review

- Evaluating behavioural changes
- Enabling a culture of continuous improvement

Towards the end of the course, we will reflect on what we have covered, what you have taken from the 3-days and what you plan to action in the near future:

- Learning and Actions
- Action planning for returning to the workplace